13) Cancellations, change of participants and change of dates

Our policy is to operate our experiences with a complete commitment to customer satisfaction. When one is booked, we are committed to you our customer, and you in turn are committing to us to show up on the day you have booked, at the allotted check in time. Failure to do so, without prior written agreement will make the booking null and void. The planning and management of each experience is done to a very high degree and if someone drops out having booked a place, we have to go to a considerable amount of trouble and cost to fill that space, if indeed even possible. Consequently, we take the matter of cancellation or date changes very seriously, and we expect anyone booking to treat the matter accordingly. All circumstances leading to a cancellation will be taken into consideration and a decision made at our discretion.

i) Cancellation by you

We are pleased to offer a 'No Quibble' guarantee. If your circumstances change then we will provide you with a refund minus an admin fee to cover any processing costs.

However, in the case of a NO SHOW, If a customer does not turn up on time for their pre-booked and pre-paid experience and hasn't notified Spitfires.com they will only be entitled to a refund minus the direct cost of the flight and any payment transaction fees incurred.

ii) Change of dates.

Should you need to postpone your flight, we do ask for 30 days' notice whenever possible to allow us a chance to resell your slot.

iii) Change of participant. Would someone you know like to fly instead? Rather than cancel or make a date change, and have to pay the admin fee, it may be worth considering finding a friend or relative to replace you on a flight. After all, this is the flying experience of a life time, and many would jump at the chance to fly instead of you! A Voucher can also be assigned to a new passenger. In either case there is no additional charge. Please advise us if you wish to change the name of the person flying.

iv) Cancellation by us

The majority of our flights go ahead as planned; however, we are flying in the UK and like other outdoor experiences, and we are subject to the vagaries of the weather. Please also acknowledge that we are flying vintage aircraft which are subject to thorough and extensive safety checks and maintenance programmes, which sometimes pick up faults necessitating unscheduled repairs, and therefore delays. Despite the best preparation and planning we sometimes have to cancel flights at short notice, in some cases on the day itself. We always do our very best to work around these delays by extending the flying programme, adding more flights, or another day of flying. However we can't always come up with the magic solution and you may have to come back another day to have your experience. Spitfires.com are not responsible for any personal costs or additional costs relating to a cancelled flight or event experience.

- a. Short notice cancellation: We may at our discretion cancel your flight for any booked date or alter its' time without notice because of matters beyond our reasonable control, for example adverse weather conditions, or for safety or legal reasons. However, you will be given as much notice of any cancellation or alteration as is possible.
- b. Flying on an alternative date: Should we need to cancel, you will be offered the opportunity to book another date during the current flying season if possible. Should there be limited availability, or there isn't a date that fits in with your plans, your booking can be re-scheduled for the following season. The flight MUST then be taken at some point during that following year or your booking will expire.
- c. Refund due to weather or aircraft unserviceability: a no quibble refund will be available should you no longer wish to fly the Spitfire.

v) Cancellation as a result of Force Majeure

Should other circumstances outside of our control (for example acts of God, riots, civil unrest) which could not have been prevented despite all efforts and precautions on our side put stop to an event, then all booked passengers will be re-scheduled to future dates when the event will be held as normal, after the disruption has passed.

14) Refund Process

Refund requests must be made initially by phone or email but must then be followed up in writing by email to sales@spitfires.com. This is to ensure that we have a documented request that both parties can refer to and avoid further claims and disputes. Once your request is received and agreed, please allow 30 working days for the refund to be processed and for payment to be received on the account. Payment will only be returned to the original purchaser. We cannot issue a refund to a participant or voucher holder if the initial payment was not made by them.

If you have made a purchase via a third-party voucher reseller, the refund will come direct from them. Please note that some resellers have different refund policies and may only offer an equivalent value voucher. Spitfires.com are not liable for other company refund policies.
